My son shines bright, in my old Kentucky heart
This summer, he'll be married one day
His bride will be a daughter-in-law to me
And I wish them the best always

Life goes on while you're busy making plans
But listen to what the old folks say
Childhoods fly, we can only wonder why
The secret is to enjoy each passing day

God bless each one in our family
Take care of them and yourself
We'll sing one song before the day is done
And, God Bless The Commonwealth
