

PamMa

3 – 1

The kids are married (2 out of 3), the nest is empty, the mortgage is paid off (almost – we think), the hubby is often away trying out for the TPC (that's Totally Past Competency) AARP Senior Senile Golf and Storytellers Tour, and for this grand dame, things are about to get grander. It seems that lone son – confused Pats Fan Rob, and lovely daughter-in-law Dr. Michelle DeLuxe, managed to tip-toe into the maternity dance club and are now expecting some more little tip-toes to join the post parade. While extended family members are hoping the little bundle of joy takes on Mom's manners (and good looks), local household handicappers know that PamMa will be the top trainer (and probably the top babysitter) when Little Luxie breaks out of the gate. And of course, there's always hope (with extended connections through Great Uncle – The Governor) that while training trots and learning lots, Little Luxie's paddock playtime will make a winner at post time.
