

Liddie

9 – 1

At Christmas I got horseshoe earrings
How did Santa know
I guess he heard that Daddy buys me
Brand new Derby clothes

Or maybe when he slid down the chimney
He saw our Derby stuff
It's on display everywhere
We just can't get enough

On Derby Day I get to dress up
My outfit is a surprise
And now that I am nine years old
I've learned to accessorize

My earrings, my necklace, and brand new shoes
A bow is in my hair
If it were up to Mr. You-Know-Who
I'd have horsey underwear

I believe in Santa Claus
My Dad believes in the Derby
I'll even believe he's The Governor
As long as I keep getting jewelry
